

Consider property Before children, Says councillor

"Personal property is being considered more important than the lives of little children," stated Councillor James Murray at the meeting of the Aurora town council Monday night. Mayor Alex Bell had asked why the fire escape on the town hall school had not been replaced. Councillor Victor Jones, chairman of the property committee, said that he had investigated the matter thoroughly.

The only way down from the second storey of the temporary school, said Mr. Jones, was over the roof of the new Robert Simpson Co. building. A contractor, he said, had no objection to this exit being used in an emergency but felt that repeated fire drills would ruin the new roof.

Mayor Bell said fire drills were considered necessary by the principal of the school in order to familiarize the children with the means of escape. He reminded the committee that it had been considered urgent four weeks ago, yet so far no action had been taken. Councillor Jones said a ramp might be built to protect the roof.

Councillor Charles Davies, a member of the property committee, assured the mayor and Councillor Murray that he had two small children attending the school, that the fire escape would receive immediate attention.

Fire Chief Harry Jones introduced Mr. Hirst of the Ontario Fire Marshall's department. Mr. Hirst commended the committee formed to investigate various makes of fire trucks in the anticipation of the purchase of new equipment for Aurora. He said it was obvious this committee, headed by Reeve A. A. Cook, was looking to the future in considering the rapid growth of the district by planning to purchase extra heavy equipment.

The committee reported it could not reach a unanimous agreement on the purchase of the type recommended by the firemen. A special meeting has been called for October 10 when representatives from three fire engine companies will be given an opportunity to speak to council. When Councillor Davies said the committee was dodging its

Record cattle entry For Markham Fair

Friday at Markham Fair promises to be the best in the history of the fair with a record entry of dairy cattle, boys and girls calves and a display of Palomino horses in addition to the regular regional sheep show and added attractions of contests in old time fiddling, calling off and square dances.

Holsteins entered in the York County Black and White Show have a record entry of 135 head while the York-Simcoe Guernseys have 111 head entered for their show. About 40 calves will compete in the interclub boys' and girls' calf club show with the new York County Baby Beef Club boys and girls bringing out a fine string of beef on the hoof. The Markham High School Girls' Trumpet Band will provide the music. Saturday's show will complete the round-up with heavy entries in every department including the big Ayshire show and the Georgetown Girls' Pipe Band as a special feature.

responsibility in bringing the matter of making a choice to council, Reeve Cook said there had been a lot of miserable rumors that the members of the committee were to benefit by a commission from the sale. That was the only reason he did not consider that the committee should be expected to make the final recommendation.

Schomberg hopes for fire hall As municipal war memorial

A new memorial fire hall for Schomberg was the hope of the Schomberg firemen's club this summer. The project progressed as far as acquiring property, a free offer for sash and doors and the construction of footings, during the early summer. "Up until now the project has not cost the ratepayers a cent," said Albert Cabell, president of the club. He said that assistance and a renewed interest is necessary to continue the project. It was hoped representatives of the firemen's club would meet with ratepayers and discuss the financial problems of building. Cecil Maynard offered the lot for the new building and Burnel

Graham has also offered sash and doors for the front of the building. Albert Cabell stated that a granite stone for a memorial would also be available. At present the property is under the legal trusteeship of the township. There are not enough funds to go ahead and buy building blocks and other equipment. "If we can get financial backing we will go ahead," said Mr. Cabell.

Schomberg is said to have the best equipped fire department in the province for the size of the community. There is a pumper truck and a pumper trailer. King township grants $250 a year. There is a flat rate of $40 a call to a fire outside the village.

'Would feed Ontario'

Optimists hear story of the clay belt As Dr. Arkinstall describes the North

"Crops from the clay belt of Northern Ontario could feed the population of the whole province," said Dr. W. C. Arkinstall, Newmarket physician.

Dr. Arkinstall, who lived and carried on his profession in the north country for years, came with his family to Newmarket from Hurst to open a practice a couple of years ago. He spoke to the Optimist club at the King George hotel Tuesday night, describing the clay belt and pulpwood areas, the people who live there and seasoned his talk with "tall stories" of the north.

The clay belt, consisting of many square miles of fertile land south of James Bay, although potentially a large agricultural production area, is slow in being developed, Dr. Arkinstall said. For many years the few people who have cleared land and settled there have gone without the comforts and steady incomes of the people in the south and as a result, never save and never get ahead.

chinery, a great amount of land may be cleared by government projects before long. The crop production is excellent in the clay belt. A 1948 average crop of oats was 70 bushels per acre," he said.

He predicted another railway going farther north through the clay belt. The farther north the population moves, the more water and power it will find. The northern areas of the clay belt could someday support a large industrial centre, he said.

He described "company towns" such as Kapuskasing and added that there are aspects of such towns both good and bad. "A company town is the only thing that brings good homes in the north. No one else can afford to build them. Yet there is always a heavy hand over such a community. It's not like Newmarket where town and industry are, for most purposes, independent of one another. But what I like about the north is its friendly people," he said.

Dr. Arkinstall's conversational narrative which carried with it a hint of these same friendly nor-

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Offer cash prizes In fire committee Essay contest

An essay contest is being sponsored by the fire committee of Newmarket council for school children. The contest which coincides with fire prevention week next week offers five prizes of $5 each and a first prize of $10. Councillor Charles VanZant, chairman of the committee, said yesterday that the purpose of the contest was to familiarize children with the importance of preventing fires.

The five prizes will be given to the best essays in each of the four public schools and the separate school. The teaching staff of each school will judge the essays of one of the other schools. The best essay of all will take a prize of $10. "Winners of the contests will also be given a ride on the fire engine a week from Saturday," said Councillor VanZant.

The essays are expected to be completed and judged by next Wednesday night, he said.

Alarm over burdens on council Brings only a reminder of more

Aurora councillor Don Glass said he is alarmed by the burden being imposed on members of council. There are committee meetings practically every night in the week. The members also serve on various boards which they are appointed to because they are councillors.

In Newmarket, duties fall heavy on the shoulders of councillors as well. The town council meets once every week and committee meetings beside that take up much of the members' time during the week.

Mr. Glass said if this condition continued it would become practically impossible to get representative citizens to run for office. "No one can give up every night in the week to civic management," said Mr. Glass.

When he was about to suggest a solution Mayor Bell referred to a water condition on Ransom Street. Four residents have complained that they can run their water taps for hours but the water is always muddy.

"This condition has existed for eight years," said the Mayor. "It has never been brought to the attention of council before," replied Reeve A. A. Cook, availing of council. "Well it is here now and something should be done about it," said Mayor Bell.

Growers plan open house At Holland Marsh Oct. 11

The growers, packers and shippers at Holland Marsh are planning an "Open House" on Wednesday, Oct. 11, when everyone is invited to tour the marsh and inspect the facilities there. A large party of agricultural, municipal and provincial government officials is expected to be present.

It is expected too that the formal announcement of an "Onion Feast" during the week of Oct. 23 to 28 will be made. The "Onion Feast" is a national promotion to encourage the sale of Holland Marsh onions across Canada. Special onion menus have been prepared and distributed to retail stores.

The Marsh has become increasingly conscious of the need to promote the sale of marsh products and the open house and Onion Feast are part of the program to make Canadians aware of the value of marsh products.

STAGE SEASON IN NEWMARKET OPENS NOV. 3-4

Members of the cast are well into rehearsals for "Dirty Work at the Cross Roads" or "Tempted, Tried and True", the gay 90's melodrama which will be the first of the Newmarket Dramatic club's winter program of a play a month.

"Dirty Work" will be presented at the Newmarket town hall on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 3 and 4.

The sets for this burlesque of old time drama are being done by Fred Hagan, Court St. Mr. Hagan, a department head at the Royal Ontario College of Art, did the sets for the "Dark Lady of the Sonnets", the club's presentation at the Central Ontario Drama Festival last spring. His work then was singled out for considerable comment. More recently, he did the backdrop for the Lions Minstrel Show.

The principals of "Dirty Work" include Joe Dales, Harry Noble, Vera Brown, Kay Kudeika, Dorothy Bowman, Don and Kitty Cummings. It is directed by Mike McMorrow.

The first presentation promises something special in "melodrama". It is a burlesque of old time plays in which the hero gloriously triumphs and the villain is hopelessly defeated.

Window frames smashed, Laboratories damaged In Lions Park building

Considerable damage has been done from time to time to the building at the Lions Club park in Newmarket. The worst damage was reported to the town council Monday night.

Someone had smashed window frames and fixtures in the laboratories. Plumbing fixtures had been broken and water poured out over the floors before police discovered the damage last week. The water system had to be turned off.

Councillor J. O. Dales suggested that a reward be posted for information leading to the discovery of persons who damaged the building. Mayor Jos. Vale said that it would be a matter for the property committee to handle.

VANDALISM

A rash of juvenile vandalism has broken out in Aurora. Markers on the bowling green were stolen over the weekend and a number of windows on vacant property have been reported shattered by stones. Constable William Langman is investigating.

MOVE TO EDMONTON

Mrs. J. E. Ekins and children of Newmarket will join her husband in Edmonton shortly after the sale of household effects on October 14 as possible. Mr. Ekins was recently appointed associate secretary of the John Howard Society in that city and the family plans permanent residence there. Mr. Ekins is a graduate of Pickering College and social studies at the University of Toronto.

WEINER ROAST

A weiner roast was held at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stephens, Second St., on Wednesday evening, Sept. 27. There were about 40 in attendance. The Young Peoples' Missionary Society of the Free Methodist church, Newmarket, held the outing as one of the group's social activities of the season. c1w40

Cattle thieves Feared in King Roads patrolled

There is a strong possibility that cattle thieves are working in King township and towards the north end of the county. Earlier, cattle had been stolen near Aurora and in August, there were reports of thefts in Whitechurch.

There is some talk among farmers of establishing voluntary road patrols to protect their stock. There has been a heavy increase in the number of beef cattle being pastured in this district.

One farmer reported this week that he found a section of his wire fence on the third of King had been untwisted and lowered where there was a bank overhanging the road at the same level as the loading platform of a truck. There was a herd of purebred Shorthorns in the field and he says they were restless and showed every indication of having been disturbed.

Constable Art Moodie, Schomberg, says that King township police have been patrolling back roads but that so far, there has been no sign of the thieves. "We believe that there have been attempts to steal cattle but it is difficult to catch anyone making the attempt. They can see us coming before we see them at night."

Farmers near Virginia are still puzzled how an Angus calf could have reached the open road where it was struck by a car and killed when the fences behind which it was pastured were unbroken and the gate closed. This, coupled with reports of missing cattle, have led them to believe that there is a possibility of thieves operating in that direction.

Long needed by-law To govern Newmarket Building Standards

A building by-law for Newmarket is expected to be on its way for council's approval shortly. A notice of motion by Councillors Chas. VanZant and Lorne Paynter was delivered to council on Monday night. A building by-law has long been considered a great need for the town.

"A zoning by-law to provide certain standards of houses for certain residential areas in Newmarket would also be a desirable thing," said Mr. VanZant. There has been no code or by-law to control building in Newmarket. When a citizen builds a house he merely needs to apply for a permit at the present time and many have built without permits.

Several complaints have come before council in the last year against types of buildings being constructed. Residents have complained that a structure can be built in a residential area, far below the standards of adjacent homes and no control could be put on them. Sanitary measures could be controlled to some extent but a low valued building has been allowed to spoil many a good residential spot.

Council was asked Monday night if it would consider constructing a road from Gorham St. to link up with Srigley St. at the east end of the camp subdivision. Steve Rose, who owns property on Gorham St. at the town limits, told council he would not sell certain lands until he learned whether council wanted a road through or not.

Mayor Vale said owners who wanted to open subdivisions were required, according to planning legislation, to open roads at their own expense. The town, he said, could not build a road if it wanted to.

Preparations are now being made to extend Muriel Ave. to meet Gorham St. and provide access to Srigley St. This is being done to provide a road for the new school, to open a subdivision, the mayor said.

Mr. Rose said that he would consult Whitechurch township planning committee in regard to opening a road between Gorham and Srigley Sts. outside the town limits. His property consisting of four acres is divided

ICE BY OCT. 14 HOPED AT RINK NEW MOTOR IN

No definite date for ice for this fall can be set as yet, it was indicated early this week. The Hydro began installing the new 60 cycle motor on Tuesday morning. If no further delays are experienced, it is hoped that ice will be available for skating on Saturday, Oct. 14.

By next week more definite information should be available. Work on the new lighting system at the arena is proceeding. The new system calls for 38 lights over the ice surface similar to those in use in the Barrie arena. At present there are 21 lights over the ice surface. The new lights will be much higher from the ice surface and will hang from the still cross rafters.

Other minor repair work on the penalty box and the cushion boards is going on at present. Stan Smith, newly appointed rink manager, assumes full charge on Monday, Oct. 9.

DRAW OCT. 12

Aurora sees rapid growth Factories, businesses expand

An indication of rapid growth in Aurora is the announcement this week that Aurora Textiles will build a modern factory on Yonge Street south of the golf course. Mr. Greenhalgh said his business is expanding so rapidly that it has outgrown its present quarters in the Mechanics hall on Mosley St.

The new factory will be equipped with the most up to date machinery for the manufacture of women's and children's sweaters. Mr. J. W. Bowser is the contractor for the new structure. The building on the east side of Yonge Street is being erected by Jack Bodfish, where he will continue his electrical contracting business and carry a full line of appliances.

The old Stevenson home which has been a landmark in Aurora for years will be demolished in the spring to make way for the new Imperial Bank building.

NOTICE

To Honey Producers in Southern Ontario...

The Ontario Farm Products Marketing Board has received a request for the approval of a proposed marketing scheme under the provisions of the Farm Products Marketing Act, 1946, to regulate the marketing of honey sold in Southern Ontario.

A mail vote by ballot of producers of honey has been arranged so that the Board may determine whether a fairly representative number of producers are in favour of the scheme. The ballot with return envelope has been sent to all producers.

If you are producing honey in Ontario from ten or more colonies of bees, and are over 21 years of age, you are urgently requested to mark your ballot for or against the scheme and mail it at once, in the return envelope provided.

We first reported on Waldy in these columns when we gave the minutes of a meeting of the Water St. and Fairley Lake Turtle Watchers' Association. All of us at that time were very impressed by Waldy. He seemed to have all the prerequisites of class and breeding. He behaved himself at that time with decorum and showed a keen instinct for the niceties of a social occasion, something which, after all, is rather rare in turtles.

It is now our sad duty to report that Waldy has a nasty anti-social streak. Underneath, or in between if you prefer, that hard shell of his, there burns the soul of an anarchist. Waldy is against organized society generally, and specifically, the transportation system.

On Friday morning, around the hour of 11, standard time, Waldy undertook to proceed up the Holland River by crossing over the Water St. bridge instead of going under it as one would naturally expect a turtle to do. The result was a traffic jam. The sight of Waldy, proceeding with the slow deliberation of a tank across the road, unnerved motorists. The first car stopped, and then the one behind it, and so on until it seemed there would be no end to the line-up.

Conferences were held, committees named and chairmen elected. A brave soul, taking advantage of every inch of cover, crept to a point behind Waldy and then, like the swooping flight of the hawk, pounced on Waldy's tail and swung the turtle aloft. There was a scattering of polite applause from the audience.

He was closely examined by the spectators and then his captor let him fall over the bridge and into the limpid waters below where, with a resounding splash, he disappeared. There was, for a bit, some question as to whether the rebel was really Waldy but when the man who had picked him swore he had heard the turtle mutter: "Leggo my tail, you durn fool," what doubt remained was entirely dispelled.

Now there is the momentous question to be settled. Will Waldy be read out of the Turtle Watchers' or simply suspended? His actions were entirely out of keeping with the tenets of association which is dedicated first and foremost to the quiet contemplation of nature as represented by turtles and is not concerned with attempted reforms of society.

Against this there can be entered a plea of "first offence," and the writing of a stern letter by the chairman with a warning that such activities will not be further tolerated among the membership. No doubt a full dress debate will be heard at an early date. In the meantime, Waldy waits the decision from the sandbank under the railway bridge.

It really is most fortunate that his quarrel was with motor cars and not freight trains.

Newmarket's Fairley Lake dam might have provided the town with an excellent slogan if another town hadn't thought of it first. Located near a dam, it advertises itself as the "best town by a dam site".

Autumn landscape

We can forget the cold and wet summer which plagued us this year if we have a few more days like Saturday and Sunday. Were there ever more typical Indian summer weekends? The sun, possibly, was a little warmer than necessary and the haze dulled the colors at a distance, but the foliage of autumn was never more vivid and the circumstances for its enjoyment never more right.

Our roads have become alleys of light from the reflections of a slanting sun through the scarlet maples or bright yellow elm and birch. The summer has left a legacy of green instead of the usual brown and parched fields, and the whole impression is one of growth and hope instead of threatening winter.

Contour plowing matches

There are competitions in contour plowing as well as level plowing at some of the matches in the United States. There is a possibility that contour plowing will be included in the International Matches in the future, but a press release quotes Mr. J. A. Carroll, secretary manager of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, as saying that it is generally agreed that a good plowman on level land work would also be a good contour plowman and that the main part of the work for such a competition would fall on the engineers in laying out the fields for contour plowing.

The International Matches are primarily concerned with pitting one plowman against the other. The educational and promotional aspects of the matches are more recent developments. Mr. Carroll's estimate of the value of contour plowing makes sense when applied to the competition only but it is a limited estimate in the light of the great educational opportunities the matches now offer.

The value of contour plowing competitions is not so much in the rivalry of the plowmen but in making those attending the matches more conscious of contour plowing as a means of soil and water conservation. Anything which tends to emphasize conservation is valuable and should be encouraged. If contour plowing contests will contribute towards this end, they should be introduced as soon as possible.

Price decision not enough

The differences between milk producer and milk distributor have been placed before an arbitrator. The milk producer was asking for an increase of 22½ cents per cwt. The distributors offered a 12½ cents increase. Until the issue has been settled, the distributors have been asked to pay a voluntary ten cents a cwt. increase.

There is a strong possibility that if the producers' price is granted, the cost of milk may go up another cent in Toronto. This would tend to reduce the amount of milk sold, and critics of the producers' demand have argued that the financial gain of the new price would be more than offset by a resultant drop in sales. The producers reply that they can't afford to produce milk at present prices but if sales are cut down, those still producing will be at least able to do so profitably.

There is another aspect of the issue. The producers have long contended that they have been made the goats in a distribution set-up which passes on increases to consumers without absorbing at least part of the increase by improved distribution methods. Agricultural Minister Kennedy supports this insistence with a statement, issued last week, which charges that the distributors are still using methods of 50 years ago.

The agricultural minister supports this argument with comparisons with Montreal, Edmonton and Calgary prices. In these three centres, the farmer gets more and the consumers pay less. In Montreal, the farmer gets $4.10 per cwt., the consumer pays 17½ cents per quart; in Edmonton and Calgary, the producers get $4.59 per cwt., and the consumer pays 18 cents. In Toronto, the producer is paid $4.07½ (plus voluntary raise of ten cents) per cwt., and the consumer pays 20 cents a quart.

There is a limit for which milk can be charged the consumer, and there is a minimum on what the producer can accept and still continue his operation. The agriculture minister's figures indicate that the time has come when something more than the settlements of the past, a price neither satisfactory to the consumer nor producer, is required. His statement clearly points in the direction where the answer lies.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Conservation authority

Will the establishment of a conservation authority for the Holland River watershed remain in the limbo of forgotten hopes until another drought revives it? The squirrel stores nuts for a long winter but so far, there has been no indication of even a squirrel's foresight in the watershed. We continue to use the resources of the valley with not a thought towards the eventuality of one day finding that we have passed the point where we can restore them.

The dry summer last year encouraged some hope of action but that has since vanished. There was, if anything, too much rain this year and it washed away the memory of lowered wells and dusty fields. But it has happened once and it will happen again, with increasing severity, unless the representatives of the municipalities within the watershed take the simple action required for the establishment of a conservation authority.

Perhaps the fault is placed with the provincial government. It was a government official who first encouraged the establishment of an authority. He chaired the first meeting when lack of a quorum prevented the formation of an authority. He has since enquired if there was a readiness to proceed. Perhaps the municipalities are still waiting for his direction. If so, it is a sorry excuse. The procedure for the establishment of a conservation authority rests as well with the municipalities. They could, with very little effort, make a start without government supervision. Is the initiative and self reliance of the valley entirely fled?

What is wrong that we neglect the elementary precaution of restoring to the valley the resources we have taken from it? Surely, no one needs to be convinced of the value of a conservation authority. Then why do we delay?

What lies ahead

The successes in Korea in the past week have encouraged the hope that the Korean incident was about cleared up, and the point made, the western nations could return to business as usual. We doubt if there will be anything resembling normalcy for several years yet. The English and French have potential "Korean incidents" ahead of them in Malaya and Indo-China, and there is no indication that the retreat of North Koreans beyond the 38th parallel means the situation is secure. On Tuesday, there were reports of troop movements into North Korea from the direction of Red China; The United Nations forces may have only begun their work.

In Europe, Berlin remains in increasingly dangerous contention. There are a score of other danger points from which at any day might flare the beginnings of a third world war. There was an upsurge of determination to face aggression and defeat it when the United Nations acted in Korea. As the United Nations have been successful, that determination has relaxed. Now, and not in the bewilderment of the early retreats, is the most dangerous period of our security.

So far, for Canadians, the Korean action has not represented any great suffering. Stiffer taxes have been levied but there has been no report of casualties from the navy and air force units actually in the fight. If it weren't for the headlines, and the odd red shoulder patch of the men of the Special Force, there is no visual suggestion that Canadians are committed to a course of defence which in the end, will cost us every effort to maintain.

We have no wish to play Jeremiah, but it appears to us that regardless of the outcome in Korea, at the best, it is only a preliminary; that there lies ahead of the Canadian people, and all the people of the west, a long-drawn struggle for existence. Whether the outcome of that struggle is determined on a battle-field, or by the slaying power of the west in maintaining its present lead in armament, it will be costly of those things we have come to accept as essential to our way of living. We can't keep our present standards of living and pay a growing charge for guns and planes.

We celebrate Thanksgiving Day next Monday. It would be appropriate to the times if, to our humility before God's bounty, we were to add an inventory of our spiritual and material possessions and reckon to what extent the one can forfeit the other.

We were told, quite earnestly, on Monday that the weekend was the forerunner of some glorious warm weather. The logic of the argument was that since the summer had been cold, the fall would be warm. "The bitter and the sweet," our informant argued. On Wednesday morning, the thermometer was back in the 30's. "The bitter and the sweet"—phooey.

Office Cat reports

Catnips By Ginger

It's the bugliest season I've ever seen," commented Humphrat the Muskrat as he surfaced through the green algae on the once smiling waters of Fairley Lake.

"Little green fleas which get in your ears and nostrils," he said. He shook the green algae off his glistening furs. "Just got these out of summer storage and look at them. Completely messed with this green stuff,—life is getting pretty un-environmental in here."

Humphrat takes to philosophizing now. His days are nearing the end of a muskrat's span and his old age is telling on him. Being the only muskrat to survive the great drainage of 1948 has had a significant strain on the old skrat at that.

"Are you thinking of moving?" I asked. "Move! Me? From the traditional scampering grounds of Fairley lake muskratry, the haunts of blue bloods?"

With a vertical finger he swore by the blood of his ancient lineage, that of all musks, "Never!"

But like many other blooded lineages, his is running pretty thin. The downfall of some blooded lineages was land reform, of others it was civil war or secession or socialization or the inheritance tax. The downfall of the Fairley Lake muskrat lineage is something different. Muskratry was undermined by sewers, tanneries, cedar cutting, heavy spring run-off, erosion, urbanization and the drainage of 1948.

"I sometimes wonder," he said, his eyes wandering and watery, "what's an old skrat like me to live for? Here I am in a stinking old mud hole trying to hold onto the established traditions of my ancestors who once lived in the quiet clear waters of Wampum pond (the Indians called it Wampum pond) shaded by rich growth, protected by natural coverage. My old uncle Hal Lucination used to say that if man kept plowing up and down hills and cuttin' the swamp cedars, this place would end up no more than a dried up sewage dump. And it did. What's a krat to live for?"

"You—you a muskrat talking like that!" said I. "You, the only muskrat which has stood against the invasion of man into these sanctified waters, you who has stood the industrial revolution, ten general elections and even the great drainage of 1948. Humph, you are the only muskrat in millions who can make that statement. No other krat can make that statement and yet you're talking like that!"

"What would you do if you won the Victoria Cross, unoppositumously?" I asked.

"I'd have my picture in the paper and get wrote up," he announced.

"Well, this is just about the same as winning the Victoria Cross. You here have done something no other muskrat has ever done. You have something special to offer, something vital to live for. It's your duty to remember that your place is an integral part of our society. You belong to the newspapers sort of, sewage sump or not—the only muskrat without a muskrat's environment."

"You're right!" he said with a vertical finger and popping eyes. "I'll do that."

The Top Six Inches

A meeting was held in Toronto recently by the Ontario Federation of Agriculture for the purpose of considering equalization of farm land taxation. Every county but two in Ontario reported.

The suburban area around cities and towns expanding into the townships has caused a real taxation problem. In years gone by, the farmers' taxes were for schools only. The roads were kept up by what was known as statute labor; every taxpayer had to do so much work on the roads. Those that could not work had to hire someone to do their share.

With the coming of the motor car we had to have a better road system. Our statute labor has been replaced by machinery. From reports submitted every county has the same tax problem.

The farmers consider that the small land owner or small lot in the townships are not carrying their fair share of taxes. The general complaint was that people living in the townships to get lower taxes. Now our schools are overcrowded and the township must build more and larger schools.

The farm buildings and the small holder could, by a current or selling value and fair assessment, arrive at an equalization of taxes. The problem seemed to be to get a fair assessment on farm land. One county reported some million dollars more assessment on land than on buildings. One farmer said of his three sons, one had 100-acre farm, the other two five acres each of general farming, market garden, small fruit and bees. The revenue of all three was about the same. The taxes were some $90 more on the 100 acres.

Reports said men living in the townships and working in towns and cities at wages of $1 to $1.50 per hour had taxes of around $25 while farmers with nowhere near the same revenue had taxes running from $300 to $500. And both groups received the same services. In some counties, the county assessor was doing a good job while in others, representatives were critical.

From reports all over Ontario, the farmers are paying more than the fair share of taxes. A committee of seven was appointed to study this problem and report later. We farmers are the goats of taxation but don't cry—wait until we get into marketing for your tears. One farmer asked: why should a few farmers spend their money and time to attend federation meetings while the great majority of farmers paid no attention? One farmer suggested that the federation of agriculture should change its name to farmers' union, that the farmers did not understand what federation meant. Whether the farmer understands or not, the fact remains that we farmers are not giving the consideration to our own business that we should.

Soft wheat and poultry marketing are questions the farmers must decide on. There is no question but that we need some control in marketing wheat and poultry. Those few people that have in the past worked in the interests of the farmers are getting discouraged with the small response and less support the average farmer gives.

York county seems to be one of the counties that does not give support to the federation. It would seem that in York county, there are too many milk cheques coming every month. Those farmers that are shipping milk have a steady revenue every month and do not have to worry. Those milk producers also produce wheat and poultry and hogs and do not seem to care about any organization except milk.

We cannot understand the attitude of milk producers towards other organized farm groups. It would seem that the milk producers are narrow in their thinking. They know the benefit of selling their milk under control, but will not give any support to the federation which is trying to organize all farm produce. Cheerio.

An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Within the past few weeks, there have been a number of inspectors in our vicinity searching for persons who have failed to obtain a radio license for the current year.

Fortunately the offence only applies to 1950, otherwise many citizens would probably have to promote some means of raising funds to pay for arrears. The radio tax is the most unpopular and definitely the easiest to evade of the long list which plagues our budgets today.

Last week, after 33 persons were fined for this offence in magistrate's court, it proved to be more than enlightening when we asked a number of people where they purchased their radio licenses. Too often the answer was "I didn't". One wrathful citizen said "Why should I be the goat and buy a license every year when hardly a person I know has one and many have never owned one."

We did find one efficient, conscientious taxpayer who told us in answer to our query that she always bought hers the day they came due and placed it in her radio where she could find it if an inspector called. She must be a comfort to the inspectors who said they have watched women paw through reams of receipts, repeatedly vowing they know they own one but cannot remember where they put it.

News of the offenders being fined was discussed with Jack Smith M.P. Mr. Smith's sympathy was divided between the government he represents trying to collect this tax and his constituents whom he said had a hard time remembering to buy the license. A prominent businessman voiced the workable idea of having the public assessed for radios. Our member for North York thought the suggestion had considerable merit. We believe this method could make the radio license a painless ante to federal funds. Those of us who are not deliberate evaders, but careless about obtaining a license, would pay without protest, relieved of the responsibility of having to remember to buy one from a vendor or the local post office.

Don't be surprised, then, if next year when the assessor calls he asks you how many radios you have in your home, but while the idea seems practical and would assure the government collecting for every radio, the already overburdened town clerk would inherit another headache trying to keep the books straight.

Oak Ridges News

Mrs. D. R. Gunn was made president of Oak Ridges Girl Guide Ladies' Auxiliary at the fourth annual meeting September 27. Other members of the executive are: vice pres., Mrs. Stanley Appleton; sec.-treas., Mrs. Walter Geary; badge sec., Mrs. H. K. Styrmoe; press sec., Mrs. Sprague Troyer; uniforms sec., Mrs. Colombo. Lieut. Joan Appleton will be Guide leader through the resignation of Capt. Phyllis McKenna.

The Brownie pack of 22 is without leaders. Mrs. Gunn and Mrs. Simpson, who have acted in that capacity for some time, have withdrawn because of home duties. It is hoped someone of the community will volunteer to undertake the work as the pack is an energetic group, interested in Brownie activities, Mrs. Gunn said.

Mrs. W. Geary convened refreshments.

Training Course
A training session for Guide and Brownie leaders of York County was held at Oak Ridges school on Friday. Twenty-two leaders were present from Scarborough, Thornhill, Richmond Hill, Richvale, Schomberg and Oak Ridges. Mrs. D. R. Gunn, county Guide commissioner, presided. Miss Marjorie Longley and Miss Shirley Cameron, diploma trainers, conducted the study and research on program planning. Miss Cameron spoke to the Guides and Miss Longley led the Brownie discussions.

Wilcox Ratepayers
To elect trustees
For S.S. 13 Wednesday

A meeting of ratepayers to elect trustees for school section 13, Lake Wilcox school, will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 11, in Wilcox Community Hall. The election was postponed from September 27 because the expiry date for appeals against the awards made in connection with the formation of the new school section falls on October 6. It is hoped that at least 200 ratepayers will attend the October meeting to indicate fair representation of the school section.

Approximately 650 names comprise the voters' list of S. S. 13, which has been compiled by Clerk John Crawford and his deputy, Leslie Harper.

Public school inspector O. M. McKillop, Richmond Hill, was present at the September meeting when discussions were held on the type and size of a new school. With him was an architect. A steel lock building similar to the school erected at Richvale held favor with many of the ratepayers. It was pointed out a need for a five-room school is altogether likely. An enrolment of 250 students is possible. In view of the expanding population of the area a long range view of the future seemed essential.

Mr. Charles L. Stephenson was appointed chairman of the September meeting and M. E. Vandervoort was secretary. The trustee board of S. S. 13 will be composed of three members, one of whom will be named chairman. The appointment of a secretary-treasurer will be considered as an addition to the board, said Mr. Crawford.

Lions Honor Students
In recognition of scholarship achievements as students of Aurora high school, Elizabeth Anne Stephenson and Richard Bull were presented with pen and pencil sets by Oak Ridges Lions club at a meeting held at Ridge Inn last week. Mr. R. J. Woolley, chairman of the education committee, made the presentation on behalf of the club, expressing pride in the 17-year-old boy and girl who have brought honor to the community not only in academic scholarship but in strength of character and by the useful and noble expression of their lives. Anne was present to accept the gift, thanking the club members for the recognition. Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bull, accepted the gift for their son who is now at Guelph in his first year of a four-year degree course there.

KESWICK

Everyone enjoyed the lovely summer-like weather over the weekend but cooler weather arrived by Tuesday. There was a heavy traffic to the lake and cottages over the weekend.

The Christian church enjoyed a well attended monthly missionary meeting Friday evening with Mrs. Ferg Taylor, president, in the chair. The two principal speakers were Mrs. Lunn and Mrs. Kennedy who gave interesting talks. A social evening with lunch was enjoyed after the meeting. Rev. and Mrs. Serrick and Miss Terry supplied special music.

Next Tuesday, Oct. 10, the W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at Mrs. Jas. Wright's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gilroy and son visited Mrs. A. Gilroy and Miss E. Gilroy on Sunday.

Keep in mind the turkey dinner in the memorial arena Saturday evening, Oct. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cowie and Mrs. Bennett, Toronto, were Saturday callers at the home of Mrs. Friend Morton.

Belhaven branch will meet in the hall on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 2:30 o'clock. Roll-call: Stand up and introduce yourself. Zephyr branch will be present. All members are to be hostesses.

On Thursday of last week, Bogartown branch enjoyed a visit and hospitality of Gormley branch at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith.

After a lengthy discussion at the executive meeting of the Newmarket branch on Wednesday, Sept. 27, it was decided to ask for voluntary contributions from the members instead of the tea, as planned at the last meeting.

The October meeting of the Mount Albert branch will be held at the hall on Thursday, Oct. 12. The ladies will meet and after their business meeting will visit a Newmarket manufacturing plant and then spend a social half-hour at the home of Mrs. H. Morton.

The Snowball branch met at Miss Sandra Harding's studio September 27 with 22 members and ten guests present. The roll-call, "Tell something to beautify our community", was well answered by both members and guests. Miss Marie Morning was chosen as delegate for Central Ontario Convention in November. Heavy wiring for the school was again under discussion. Mrs. Morning, Mrs. Cain, Mrs. Copson and Mrs. Blum were appointed to get cost, etc. The ladies accepted an invitation to visit the Ontario hospital on October 14. Those wishing to attend please get in touch with either Mrs. E. Copson or Mrs. H. Patrick.

There will be a booth at Mr. Art Evans' sale on October 12. Those in charge are Mrs. C. Con-day guests at the home of Mrs. R. A. Gilroy.

Toronto Centre Presbytery Women's Association semi-annual meeting held at Victoria Square on Tuesday, Oct. 3, was attended by a number of United church ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gall, Weston, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Ward returned to Weston with them.

Mrs. Rex Sedore and little son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marritt.

Sports night for boys at the memorial centre is away to a good start. The large space provided by the new cement floor in the arena is being put to good use, on Friday night at least. E. Werden and Charlie Stevens are in charge of the Optimist club with the able assistance of our school principal, Dave Butterworth.

The club has purchased a basketball. Boys up to age 12 are under supervised play from 6:30 p.m. until 8:30 and older boys from 8:30 until 10:30. Every boy is welcome, no matter in what part of the township he lives, and an effort will be made to meet the tastes and abilities of all boys of all ages.

Mr. Werden points out that Friday night is strictly for boys and says he hopes that some organization will take charge of a girls' night for similar games.

If you haven't purchased your ticket for the Mart Kenney dance be sure and do so and save on the admission price. This event promises to be an exceptional musical treat. The Mart Kenney band is recognized as Canada's top dance band and the added attraction of a quartette and two soloists will make it a must even if you don't dance. The proceeds of the dance will be used by the Optimist club for chairs for the memorial auditorium.

Plans are underway for a hockey league made up of the seven township schools again this winter and the athletic association is joining with the Optimists to have this year's league players better equipped and organized. Every school board is asked to provide hockey sticks and transportation and the athletic association and Optimist club will provide ice times, goalies' equipment and organization costs.

The turkey dinner and dance this weekend will provide you with an opportunity to see what a wonderful place the new floor has made for all year round sports.

A welcome to the Davis Leathers bowlers. A four-team loop with team captains Murray Allen, Bill Townsley, Jim Cullen, Jr., and Gordon Tunney. Tanners completed their third week of bowling Wednesday and came up with some hot early season rolling. Art Peppiatt led with a 662 (254-206-202). Art Flanagan with a 647, Bernard McHale 641, Len Burling 616, Ned Tansley 608 followed in that order. Allen's and Tunney's swept up seven points from Townsley's and Cullen's crews respectively. Here's the present league standing: Tunney's 21, Allen's 14, Cullen's 12 and Townsley's nine.

Townsley and Len Burling.

Here's some shooting that will make the Hoffman bowlers to the mark. Frank VandenBergh came up with a nifty 698 Friday. Frank had a 243 high single game. Bob Murray 624 and Clay Reid 600 were the shotmakers in the 600 class. The Office took it on the chin Friday, Vorlone recording a 5-2 win, dropping the pencil pushers into the basement. Machine Shop nosed out Press Shop 4-3 in other test. Present standing is Press Shop 13, Sheet Metal 11, Machine Shop nine, Vorlone five, Office four. Hoffman officers for this year are Jack Duncan pres., Grant Blight sec. and Clarence Sainsbury treas.

Helen Tomlinson 599 (210-212-137), and Hazel Bennett 559 (170-183-206), finished in a dead heat for last Thursday's ladies' league top honors. Other fine scores were posted by Frances Bennett 522, Faye Struthers 514 and Betty VanZant 513.

First night returns are in from the Town Industrial Bowlers. Legion, Combines and Metal Workers swept up four points from Dixons, Insley's and Denne Electric.

Eddie Gibson topped the early returns with a 729 (210-247-272). Perc Pemberton 726 (291) and Moe Hall 714 (306) made the 700 bracket. Other leading three game scorers were Ki Curtis 695, Hank VandenBergh 695, Roy Gibson 679, Ag Smith 666 and Doug Beckett 662.

They will meet twice a month from now on, as will the Parochial Guild which had its meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Thompson, Andrew Street.

BANTAMS LOSE TO OAKVILLE IN O.B.A. SEMIS

Fans attending the O.B.A. bantam play-off game at S.S. Wednesday came away with the feeling that you don't lose any tougher ones. Newmarket Optimists, after being swamped in Oakville Saturday night 13-4, carried the Oakvillers down through 11 frames before being squeezed out 9-8.

The loss dropped our Optimists from the O.B.A. playdowns to two straight. A single, and pitcher Mel Medland's swing that turned into a perfect squeeze play, gave Oakville a run in the 11th and broke up an 8-8 deadlock. Actually, our bantams should have won won in the regulation nine. They led 8-7 going into the ninth.

Oakville worked Geo. Kiroff, who pitched a steady game, for a walk in the top of the ninth and Kiroff's attempted pick-off of the runner at second went screwy, his peg going past Bob Forhan and then Ken Parsons in centre field allowing Oakville an unearned run and a tie at 8-8. The deadlock existed until Oakville scored in the 11th.

It was a grand effort by our lads and they were playing heads up ball. Laurie VanZant with two hits, one a power-driven homer, and Ron Knowles with two nifty bunts paced our swingers. Fred Bennett's one handed stab for a liner and Grant Edwards' throw from right to nail a runner at the plate featured the fielding display.

Newmarket: W. Mair, R. Knowles, G. Morton, B. Forhan, F. Bennett, L. VanZant, G. Edwards, K. Parsons, G. Kiroff.

H. AND S. ASS'N RESUMES ACTIVITY

The Newmarket Home and School association opened the new season with a social evening at St. Paul's parish hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28. There was a large group of parents and teachers in attendance and the evening afforded both groups an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Howard Morton, from illness, the past president, Mrs. Ted Mitchell, welcomed the guests. Mrs. M. B. Seldon, chairman of the public school board, spoke briefly on the opening of the Prince Charles school for classes on October 2. Mrs. Seldon said that the board would be most happy to have the Home and School hold meetings in the new school.

MARY JANICE LAW WEDS IN TORONTO

Standards and baskets of white and pink gladioli and ferns formed the setting in Bellefair United church, Toronto, on September 16, for the marriage of Mary Janice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott Law, Newmarket, and Mr. Albert Edward Newall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert William Newall, Toronto. Rev. Dr. Kerley performed the ceremony. Mr. Ayers was organist and Mrs. Staphilia, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gownned in white corded taffeta with fitted bodice and full skirt forming a slight train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a beaded coronet and she wore her grandmother's diamond brooch and earrings and carried a cascade of white gardenias and 'mums.

Mrs. O. A. Clarke, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, chose a cinnamon crepe dress and carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow 'mums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. A. Mair and Miss Susan Clarke, were gownned in orchid and blue nylon sheer and carried nosegays of white, pink and mauve gladioli petals and roses. Miss Nancy Clarke, flower girl, in yellow organdy, carried a basket of yellow and white 'mums. Mr. Wilfred Joyce was best man and the ushers were Messrs. O. A. Clarke and Norman Joyce.

The reception was held in a private dining room at the Royal York hotel, Toronto, where Mrs. Law received in coral crepe with corsage of white gardenias, assisted by Mrs. Newall in blue crepe with corsage of pink roses. The bride chose a green gabardine suit with brown accessories for travelling to Pennsylvania, Southern Virginia, through Skyline Drive, later to New York, returning home via the Thousand Islands. Mr. and Mrs. Newall are residing in Toronto.

Guests were present from Teaneck, N.J., Bayhead, N.J., Englewood, N.J., Trenton, London, Hamilton and Toronto.

Sutton ties series Game called in 6th

Sutton junior lady greensox needed three outs to polish off Mount Albert for the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' League crown Monday at Queensville. The teams were at it in the seventh, and deciding game of their series. Sutton had pyramided itself into a 16-4 lead in the sixth. Mount had one out when umpire Bob Peters ruled too dark. Sutton said it wasn't too dark to continue. Mount said it was.

So now it's up to the executive to set a date for a replay although there's a protest on a previous game to settle. But back to Monday's game. It was a Sutton triumph. Mount couldn't do anything right afield and its hitting was weak. Bertha Crone with three, one a homer, and Gladys Rolling with two were the exceptions. Sutton teed off on both Marguerite Green and her successor, Ida Bertolin, with Ruth Dunn with four safeties being the strong swinger for the lady greensox.

Friday night Mount Albert gals used the last of the seventh as a wedge to earn an 8-7 victory. Going into the seventh Mount trailed 7-6 but sprang to attention with a two-run rally that brought home the win and tied the series. Marguerite Green earned the decision in the pitching duel over Mary Jean Sinclair. She assisted her pitching work with three hits with Ida Bertolin and Gladys Rolling, with two each, in major supporting roles. Mary Jean Sinclair and Rita Riddell, Sutton battery mates, were tops with Sutton on the offensive side.

Mount Albert: B. Crone, R. Simpson, G. Rolling, M. Green, I. Bertolin, K. Diceman, M. Holstock, E. Green, S. Gibney, V. Coomer.

Sutton: R. Dunn, L. Beattie, M. J. Sinclair, D. A. Loneragan, L. Crowder, R. Riddell, M. Quinn, D. Loneragan, D. Oliver.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

"I know what you should write about this week... our new school," said Ted breathlessly as he rushed in at noon from his first day at the Prince Charles school. "It's a beauty."

"We have new seats and desks! and all the doors on the clothes closet open when you open the first door and we have our own drinking fountain. It's right in our classroom and we can get a drink without going out of the room even. There's a great, long corridor goes the whole side of the building. Course you can't run down it... unless you forget. Boy, it's fun. Just like a train going through a tunnel only it's not dark. Oh, Mommy, you'll just have to see my school."

Well, as you can imagine, we didn't need a second invitation. There was a steady stream of comment on the new building and as more exciting details poured forth during the lunch hour our curiosity for a close view of the school was increased. That evening we visited the Prince Charles school. (Even Ricky peeked in the windows to see where Ted's seat was.)

We couldn't possibly begin to tell you all that we saw in this one column for everything was so very lovely that it deserves a detailed description. Nor was it possible for us to get more than an over-all picture of the building in our short inspection tour. Brief as it was, it more than made us wish that we had been born in a later generation so that we might have enjoyed our schooling under such ideal conditions. As we have further opportunities to re-visit the school we shall tell you of its various features, but now for the highlights.

First, we would like to toss an over-size bouquet to the members of our public school board of trustees with a special posse for the chairman, Val Seldon. Such an undertaking has meant hours and hours of time and thought on the part of these civic minded citizens. None of us standing on the sidelines can begin to realize just how much time these men and women have given in the interest of our children and in an effort to keep Newmarket in step with the times. To have such outstanding visual evidence of their years in office should help to compensate them for their hard work. Such a location! It would be difficult to find a more ideal spot both from the viewpoint of safety and spaciousness. There is no through traffic to endanger the children's play periods and when the playground is completed, it will rival many a park area. There will be room for the smaller children to enjoy their activities without handicapping the more energetic older boys and girls.

From a survey conducted prior to the purchase of the land, it was found that the need for additional school space was greater on the east side of town. With the exception of the kindergarten classes and a few grade eight pupils, everyone attending the school lives east of the C.N.R. right-of-way. As yet the landscaping is incomplete, but even this grassless state does not detract from the beauty of the architecture. It offers the best in contemporary school design. The interior is equally fine with a feeling of harmony without the monotony which is found so often in public buildings. Nothing was left to guesswork, but is the result of careful consideration. Oh, we have barely touched on the subject, but you will certainly hear more about the Prince Charles school from us these next few weeks.

BEAUTIES ARE TEMPERMENTAL

We have had it pretty well impressed upon us that beauties of stage, screen, literature and even in real life are temperamental. They count on beauty to cover a multitude of—shall we be kind and say—moods?

Well, as my cat-loving readers know, we have a cat named Beauty and no lovely heroine of any thriller was ever more obstinate, self-sufficient—and alas—more intriguing than she!

About the end of August we knew that Beauty was leading a double life. In the house, she would fix me with an unwinking eye until out of sheer desperation would fix her the kind of a meal she prefers—she just sits and stares at any other—when she had eaten her fill, she would demand out and we would not see her again until hunger overtook her.

One day the other half of the family said "I'd better see what she's up to," and so followed her in a furtive manner, for she resents espionage. He returned to the house to report five kittens under a pile of brush in the orchard.

As we couldn't reach them, that was that. But where there are cats there are usually cat-astrophes. You remember the terrific wind and rainstorm a few weeks ago. Said I to Archie, "What about Beauty?" Said he to me, "What about Beauty?" So we both said—"Oh well, too bad." Hardly had we voiced this touching sentiment when wild, but somewhat muffled shrieks rent the air and we flew to the door. "What is it?" I roared above the thunder that shook the house. "It's Beauty and she has a rat," said the other half. "A rat," said I. "It's a kitten!" And a kitten it was, drenched and stone cold, while Beauty was dripping all over like a sieve.

"Bring them in," said I, and we rolled the baby in a dry rag and tried to towel Beauty, but no, out she went again, and five times made the long trip through grass that comes to my waist, and each time brought in a soaking morsel of catdom.

Then and then only did she allow herself to be dried and settled in a box with her infants, I suppose we have all heard of people who have a moving complex—their goods and chattels are hardly settled in one place till they're ready to go again. So as Beauty in the past was a member of this fraternity, we could only hope she had given up fellowship in it and would settle down.

One day we were sitting at lunch and Archie said to me, "Is that a door squeaking or a kitten?" "It's your cat," said I, "taking those defenceless kittens off." Up got Archie and trailed after the troublemaker. "There are only two kittens left here," he informed me, somewhat apologetically, and just then her ladyship arrived, picked up another kitten and marched off. Archie followed and returned to tell me in awed tones of his wonder cat.

"She climbed up the supports along the beams with those kittens," "Here's a pretty kettle of fish," said I. "How will she get them down?" Being able to see no flaw in this remarkable cat, he said proudly, "She can get them down!" "Oh, can she?" I wanted to know, and we found out the answer a few weeks later when she made us see they were to come down and the man of the house had to ascend to the loft, crawl like a snake into a dark corner and wiggle out with five wiggly creatures attached to his person.

Was she satisfied to return to her old home in the kitchen? Not she! One by one, to the accompaniment of infant shrieks and roars, they were carried upstairs to a room we had opened over the kitchen, but which is not in use. Here beneath a sunny window she has established them.

She demanded food for them the other day and she is personally conducting them on tours through the upper regions. What her ultimate intentions regarding them are is known only to Beauty! But let no one say that cats do not plan, use diplomacy—like flattering Archie, and exert magnetic power—witness one giving her the best of everything. I am going to study the cat language—it has inflections anyway.

Aluminum Wrappers

An Inside Story about Butter

Butter goes stale quickly when air and light get in. That's why better-wrapped butter tastes better. Buy one of the many brands that are flavour-sealed in aluminum foil.

The next time you buy Butter, Cheese, Candy, Chocolate, Tea, look for the brand in clean, hygienic aluminum foil. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of any packaged food, there's an "inside story" of purity well-protected.

No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. So save the protective foil. Use it to rewrap the butter when you put it away, and protect that "farm-fresh" flavour.

Hints to the Housewife

Wrap food leftovers in aluminum foil. Keep them fresh for another meal. Perishable fruits and vegetables stay fresh and crisp in aluminum foil.

I'm Always Delighted to get letters from readers who've tried and liked the products I recommend. Here's one that's particularly enthusiastic: "Thanks a million for your tip on Sloan's Liniment. You've no idea how it relieves the occasional rheumatic pains I have. I'll never again be without Sloan's!" Yes, rheumatic pains go deep. That's why you should go after them with deep-penetrating SLOAN'S LINIMENT. It's such comfort when you're suffering from rheumatism or sore muscles — a sprain, a stiff neck or neuralgia. Such soothing warmth just put on Sloan's for almost instant relief! At any drugstore for just 40c a bottle.

When Meal-Getting Time is rushing, it's extremely annoying to be slowed up by a hard-to-open package. That's why I'm so delighted with the new easy-to-open DURHAM CORN STARCH package! Just break the seal and inside you'll find Durham Corn Starch neatly protected in a paper bag. No fuss — no bother! Then, when you've used as much "Durham" as you need at the time, replace the top of the package. It will protect your corn starch from dust 'til the next time you need it. And, if you've never tried the luscious recipes on the Durham package, you've a treat in store! I particularly recommend the one for Lemon Pie! It's an Ann Adam recipe, so of course it's delicious!

"Married Women Do Need Their Own Bank Accounts" remarked one of my smartest friends last week at lunch. "John and I often used to have — well — words whenever I needed a new dress or shoes or simply the lift a new bonnet always gives me. Trouble was I never seemed to have enough left over from my household allowance to pay for these things when I wanted them. Then I hit on a solution — I opened my own Savings Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL."

Each week I put away the dollar or two left over from my household expenses. I've been amazed how quickly my balance grows. And so many of the things I really want I can now afford. Our budget runs much more smoothly too, which keeps John in the right frame of mind for a happy husband."

Planning A Bridge Party? Your list of "nothing-but-the-best" refreshments won't be complete without RED ROSE TEA! Yes, Red Rose is a taste-treat to cause happy comment among your bridge guests. And it's not just a special occasion treat, but so economical that you can make an every-day, year-round habit of it! Did you know that a delicious, flavour-packed cup of Red Rose Tea costs you less than a cent — including the cream and sugar! It's a simple, mathematical fact! Because Red Rose Tea is good tea, it actually gives you more cups per pound — its flavour goes a long, long way! Just one more thing. When you're ordering your Red Rose Tea, ask for Red Rose Coffee. You'll find that Red Rose Coffee is as good as Red Rose Tea.

PEEWEEES LOSE ON ERRORS OUTHIT FOE

Though outthitting Tillsonburg, Newmarket pee-wee baseballers couldn't do anything right afield and dropped a 19-13 decision to Tillsonburg in the first game of the O.E.A. semi-finals. The local laddies pumped out 16 hits against 13 checked by Tillsonburg but afield, a generous score-keeper stopped counting when their errors reached 10. All these miscues hurt.

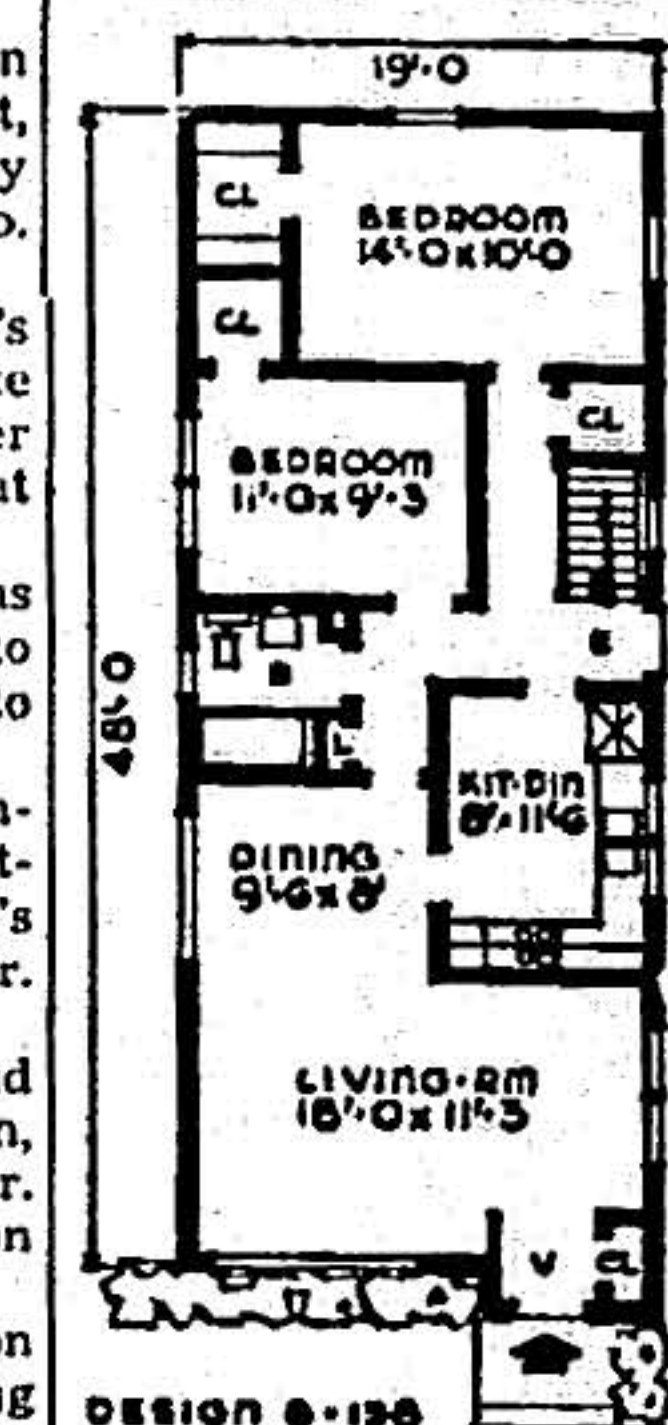

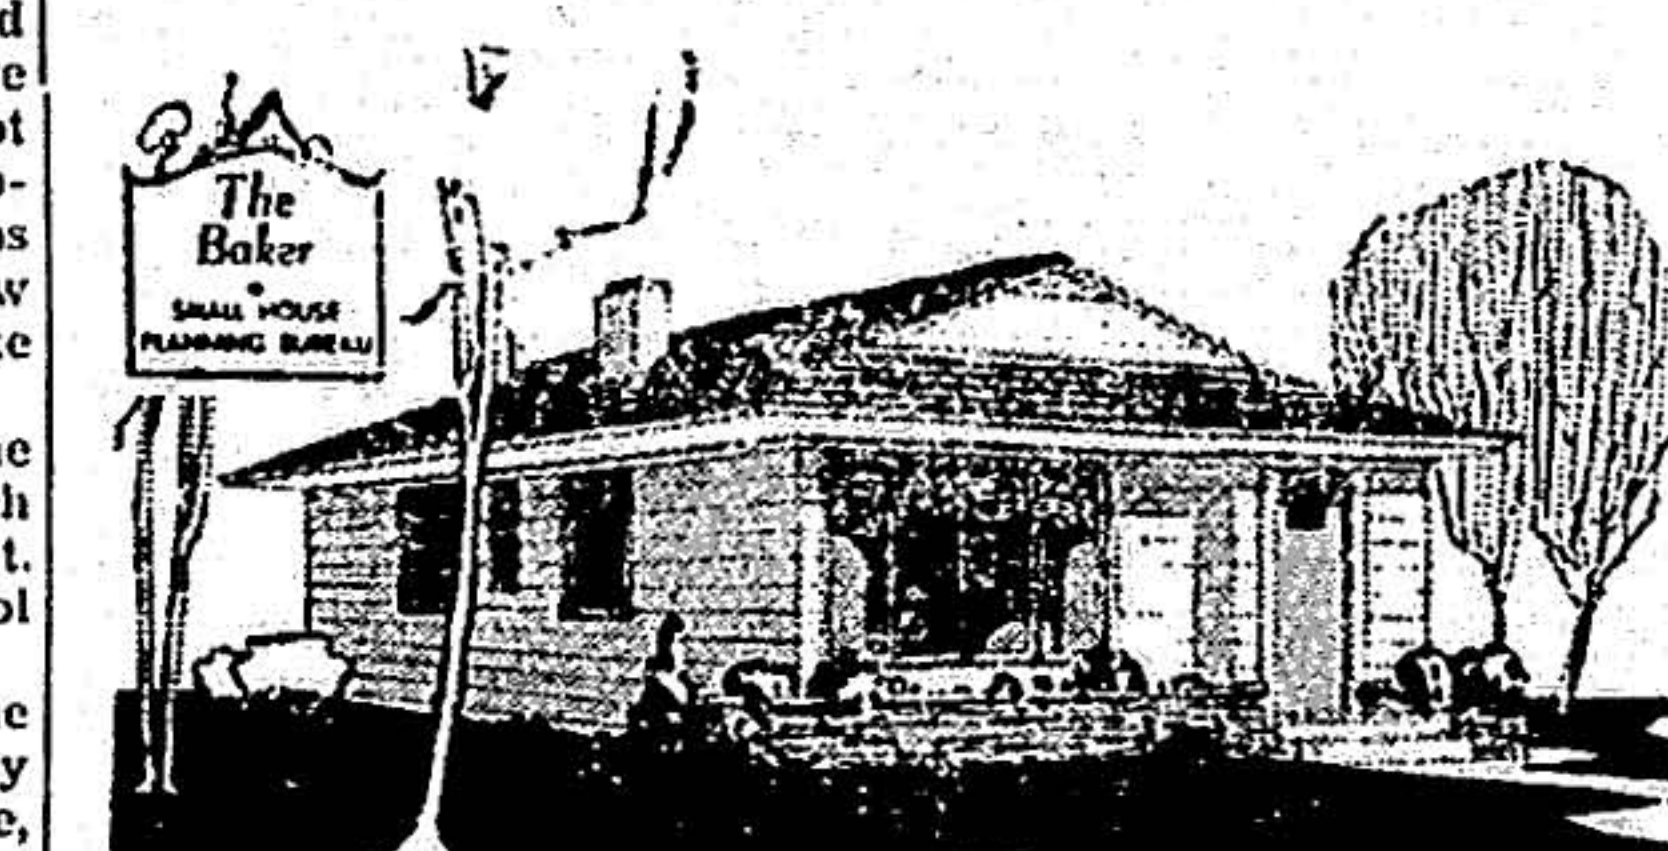

Tillsonburg worked its margin into the two figure column with an eight-run second and 10-run third and tacked on the final run in the fourth. Newmarket, after pulling into a 2-0 lead, had a big second frame, plunking seven runs into the kitty, but from there on, had to be content with singles. Bill Forhan and Charlie McGuire sported healthy batting averages with four hits each. Bob Milmine, towering catcher for the visitors was their most consistent swinger, tripling and singling and walking three times for a perfect batting stand.

Catch Frank Hollingsworth sent Don Thoms to the mound with Jack Cain coming on in the third to do a good job of halting the rampaging Tillsonburgers.

Both teams wish to say "thank you" to Morton Bros. and Harry "Pop" Holmes at the Corner Cupboard for their soft drink treat after the game.

Small House Plans . .

DESIGN # 1326

THE BAKER is only 19' wide and in most cases can be built on a lot as narrow as 25'. The plan consists of an L-shaped combination living-dining room, kitchen with dining space, two bedrooms and full basement. If no basement is used, the space occupied by the stairs can be converted into a utility room.

Kitchen cabinets line two walls with the sink under the windows. The refrigerator is on the left and the range on the right, which still leaves ample space for a breakfast set.

Bedroom closets are large size walk-in closets. There are coat closets in the vestibule and the rear entry. A linen closet is placed conveniently in the bedroom hall.

Plans call for a finish of either cedar shakes or wide siding. The roof, with wide eaves, is asphalt shingled.

The overall dimensions of the Baker are 19' by 48'. Floor area totals 912 sq. ft., while the cubeage of this house amounts to 17,328 cubic feet.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT

Newmarket Sports Editor

Everybody wants to get into the act in our fall round up week. A flood of news, jots and jottings. We can talk shop on baseball, softball, lacrosse, hockey, tennis, archery, rod and gun, bowling, floodlights and television. What do you prefer, my friendlies? The works? Let's get on with it, then.

Our knee-high-to-a-grasshopper baseball kiddies went butterfingers on us Saturday. Dropped a pair. Pee-wees with a bushel of hits and sack full of errors was diked by Tillsonburg 18-13. Bantams, doing night exercises at Oakville, lost 13-4. Win, lose or maybe, our kids are up in the top brackets. In pee-wee, three left, Tillsonburg, Petrolia and Newmarket. In the bantam circle, Wheatley, Elora Caledonia, Oakville and Newmarket. If not this year, one of these fine falls we're going to land an O.B.A. championship—mark my words.

Happy days! Fred Morris, the Langstaff grocery man, is happy his Staffers won the North York crown and Joe Spillette trophy after many an unsuccessful attempt. Series went the five-game limit under the Schomberg lights. Lansing, the favorite, suffered from the "shorts" in the winner-upper as Bill Bowen allowed nary a hit until the eighth. Ted Bennett's little blooper into right cancelled Billie Boy's bid.

"Makes a guy feel mighty good, after all these tries, to win and now I'm off on my holidays—a week at the cottage, a week in New York." That's Mr. Morris' way of celebrating. Bowen, as well as pitching a terrific game, thumped a drive—must have travelled 240' if an inch—longest hit in the park, says Glad Lloyd and Elgin Hastings, the two Schomberg softball minded gents.

Herb Rose, Normie Stundten and Art Crean made the right switch, it seems—were with Aurora "Meteors", last year's champs—now with the Langstaff champs. Charlie Ryan and Ted Bennett missed the celebrating as they elected to play with Lansing "Firemen" this term.

More on softball: Think Skipper Frank Courtney will bear us out—mentioned earlier in the campaign—"Valley's the team to beat". They wrapped up the Barrie and District crown, Newmarket's successors, in three straight, cooling out Stranmen 2-1, 1-0, 6-2. The skipper indicates league banquet will be held at Orillia October 27.

Lacrosse: The feudin' and fusin' and fightin' grows louder as Bradford and Alliston settle home of intermediate C.O.A. diadem. Carried the scrappin' to the penalty box Wednesday in Alliston as several exuberant fans sealed the walls into that forbidden territory. Likely mean a trip to the court-house for us timers and pennally bench pews warmers. Not likely to get more than 60 days at the most. Carry on, Ab, never a dull moment in this business.

ARCHERS OPEN FIELD COURSE AT GLENVILLE

A "grand success in every way" is the description president Bob Chadwick, secretary Harry Markham and publicity man Orla Larsen gave the official opening of the Newmarket Archery Club's field course at Glenville Sunday. The weatherman came up with perfect weather for the opening shoot and over 100 visitors dropped in during the day to see how the various contests were conducted. Councilor Charles VanZant officiated at the opening ceremonies.

The course is approximately half a mile west of Glenville pond and consists of 28 targets spread across the Glenville hills. The course is very well marked and targets are placed at various distances from the shooting stands, some less than 20 yards, others as far away as 60 yards and require uphill and downhill shooting, giving the archers a real test of their ability.

Thirty-two contestants entered Sunday's opening day shoot. Results were: men's field, Geo. Mills, Lakeshore Archery club, Long Branch; women's field, Mrs. Pat Markham, Newmarket Archers; men's broadhead, Ray Martin of Lakeshore Archery club; junior boys, Bob Chadwick Jr.; junior girls, Frances Markham, Newmarket Archers.

The club now has 16 members and President Bob Chadwick says they'll welcome new members. Almost every weekend from now until the snow flies there will be someone at the field course and everyone is welcome to pay a visit.

Bowmen pitches 'Staff To Spillette Trophy
Langstaff, perennial seekers of the North York Softball title, finally came through. Thursday night in the fifth and deciding game of the set, they beat out a 7-0 win over Lansing to capture the crown and Joe Spillette Trophy.

Schomberg fans and disciples from the two contending teams were treated to a masterful pitching job by Bill Bowen. He swung his strong right arm with precision to record a shut-out and allow only two hits. Bowen had a no-hitter going until the eighth. Ted Bennett broke it off by looping a Texas leaguer into right. Roger McGee connected for a triple in the ninth after two were out but couldn't find transportation down that long last mile to the pay-off station.

Bowen was given perfect support afield. His mates took on two Lansing pitchers, Geo. Hall, their old nemesis going out in the seventh in favor of Norm Walker after allowing ten hits and five runs. Walker was greeted by a pair of singles for a run and Bill Bowen completed his domination of the scene with a towering 240 foot base circler.

Langstaff, perennial seekers of the North York Softball title, finally came through. Thursday night in the fifth and deciding game of the set, they beat out a 7-0 win over Lansing to capture the crown and Joe Spillette Trophy.

Stan Pasko and Larry Lake shared the Langstaff top hitting marks with two each.

Harvey Gibney coach Of Aurora Indians
The district hockey machines aren't standing around waiting until they take to the ice to give the fans a few surprises. Harold Rogers, mentor and chief whip of Aurora "Indians", got the first bombshell away early this week with his announcement that Harvey Gibney would coach the Indians this term.

"Gib" brings a long term of hockey playing experience with various district teams onto the coaching job. Last season "Gib" started out with Stan Smith as coach of last year's Spitfires, Trolley League champions, but turned in his coaching ticket to give Stan Smith a free hand after he decided to return to active playing. Harold Rogers is returning as manager of the Indians. As yet the balance of the executive hasn't been named but an announcement on this is expected before the week is out.

Things are really beginning to boil along the hockey front. Last week, in an exclusive news story, we gave you the news that Herb Cain had been appointed coach of Aurora junior hockey club. That fulfilled one-half of the undercover activities that have been percolating in Aurora the past month. This week Hal Rogers, maestro of the Aurora Indians (intermediate) announced that another canaltown sports great will be mentoring in Aurora this winter. Harvey Gibney, quiet spoken, likeable Newmarket boy, will be at the helm of the Indians and he and Rogers have been losing no time since the die was cast in rounding out a contending squad.

Rogers has had playing certificates longer than anyone in the district and he's unleashed his fountain pen to good effect. Gibney, who has played most of his hockey in canaltown and Sutton, will not play himself but will direct traffic from the bench. Last season and the year before, he did a good part of the coaching chore with Spitfires and he has the savoir faire and tenacity to really make a grade A job of his new assignment.

One thing for sure, the Aurora clubs should certainly have a big Newmarket following, if only to follow the fortunes of the two coaches. Both Cain and Gibney have a wide circle of friends and supporters, who'll be anxious to see them make good in their new fields. They wouldn't be human if they didn't have critics and a small avvil chorus — 'twas always thus. There is no reason in the world the same friendly spirit that has characterized sports in the "twin towns" the past decade shouldn't continue.

Four records fell and one was equalled as champions were crowned at the Aurora High school field day Wednesday, Sept. 27, in Aurora Town Park.

Lynn Easterbrook tossed the discus 134'2" in the senior boys' class to set a new record, beating one established in 1934 by Jack Cox by over five feet. In the intermediate boys' section, Jim Crystdale sent the sphereoid 112'11" to exceed Ken Brown's mark of 104' made in 1932.

John Loblaw in the intermediate boys' group went the 100 yds. in 11 seconds to equal a mark made by Tommy Cooper in 1927.

Ross Linton, winner of the boys' senior championship, jumped 38'7" for a new record in the senior hop-step and jump. The late Bruce Stiles held the previous record of 38'5" made in 1932.

Champions crowned were: Sr. boys, Ross Linton, Donald Busby; Sr. girls, Gaye Morning, Betty Richardson; Int. boys, Donald Morning, Keith Kincaid; Int. girls, Grace Heare, Joyce Seaton; Jr. boys, Ronald Geddes, Ronald Knowles; Jr. girls, Nancy Beckwith, Carol Busby.

Alliston wins O.L.A. 'C' In 3-goal rally
Bradford "Celery Kings" for 45 minutes Wednesday evening appeared to have the intermediate "C" O.L.A. Ontario championship in the palms of their hands. They led 7-5 going into the final 15 minutes. But they counted without the recuperative powers of Alliston, who unleashed a stinging three-goal attack in the final period to squeak out an 8-7 win to pick up the Ontario crown in the seventh and deciding game.

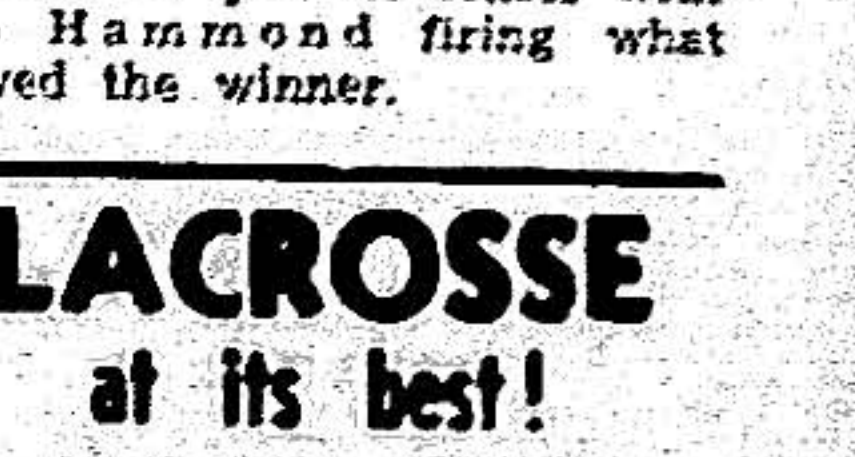

Molyneux to coach Local intermediates
Father McCabe manager
Larry Molyneux has been named coach and Father T. J. McCabe manager of the Newmarket intermediate hockey team. It was announced last week after an executive meeting of the club.

"Molly" served nine years in Rangers of National Hockey League, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Springfield and New Haven of the American Association, year was associated with Gravenhurst intermediate and locally coached the intermediate Vets several years.

Father T. J. McCabe, active in coaching hockey since 1934, takes over the management of the team. Stan Smith, who was manager just over a year, but resigned to take over the management of the Newmarket arena.

Collingwood, featuring Nip Spooner, Reg Westbrook and all the lads, represented the local Legion area in the playdowns. The senior Legion winners had such well known athletes as Johnny Furlong, Babe Gresko, Johnny Kyrle, Joe Buda, Hal Prescott and many more in their line up indicating the calibre of ball played.
